JUST DAVID BY NOSE EPINARD REACHES LAUREL BARBARY BUSH VICTORIOUS EMPIRE CITY OPENING

Beats Pegasus in Exciting Finish in Latonia's Main Race.

Queen Charming Again Triumpha -Seclusion, Speckled Beauty and Parader Disappoint.

LATONIA, Ky., Oct. 16.-Latonia's racing offer for Thursday was decidedly below standard and it brought to the post in the different races some of the more humbler ones to strive for the rich purses. The sport did not suffer to any appreciable extent, for the even caliber of the contestants brought about hard fought contests with close finishes. Favorites were not particularly successful, most of them going down to defeat.

The principal race was the Stationers' Claiming Mile Handicap, in which five of the high grade platers met and it furnished the high grade platers met and it furnished an exciting duel between Just David and Pegasus, the former winning by a nose. Mergler rode him exceptionally well and he also saved much ground for the entire way. Pegasus looked like the winner an eighth out, where he had attained a slight lead. but in the final drive he tired slightly and Just David managed to again regain the lead he had relinquished to Perasus in the he had relinquished to Pegasus in the stretch. King Gorin II. finished in third place after a hard race. Quince Garden was expected to cut a prominent figure in the re-sult, but he was done after going threequarters.

quarters. Queen Charming, which has been racing consistently, was victress of the fourth race, in which she met some ordinary ones that in-cluded New Gold and Elusive. New Gold finished in second place, showing superiority over the others. Elusive kept Queen Charm-ing close company for the first half mile, but when Martin began using his whip the filly swerved all over the track and tired filly swerved all over the track and tired perceptibly in the last eighth. Queen Charm-ing was the first successful favorite of the afternoon.

O'DONNELL AT FAULT.

Jockey S. O'Donnell, who came here heralded as a crack rider, suffered consider-able in reputation, when, through his blund-ers, Seclusion, an outstanding favorite, went down to defeat by an narrow margin, the inexperienced Hoagland beating him home with the outsider, Phil McCann. Seclusion was pounds the best, but O'Donnell took her far out of contention in the first three-eighths and only began to move up just before reach-ing the stretch. The filly found a clear course next the inner rail which saved her con-siderable ground and she responded in game style, but missed the victory by a head. After the finish M. Shapoff claimed her at a cost of $2,500.

T. Chinn's Speckled Beauty was sup-P. ported to the exclusion of the others in the comprising a dozen maiden second race, youngsters, but after flattering in the lead until reaching the stretch, began fast and Dr. Tanner, hard ridden and hold-ing on well, won by a small margin from Rocky with Bad Luck pressing the pair closely and just in advance of Backbiter. The finish here was spectacular. The leaders all driving hard changed leadership during the last sixteenth and it required the last stride to determine the winner.

LAUREL, Md., Oct. 16.-Epinard arrived at Laurel this morning without mishap on his trip from Latonia, scene of the third and last of his contract engagements in the United States. He was accompanied by his stable-mates Satin Slippers and Idle Girl. In the other end of the three-door car came Ladkin, Blind Play and Diagram, three thorough-breds belonging to August Belmont. Frank Leigh, assistant trainer of Epinard and Dick Williams, groom of the French champion, rode with him from Kentucky. They left La-

Eugene Leigh and Louis Feustel, train-ers of Epinard and Ladkin, arrived later in the morning. Epinard and Ladkin are scheduled to clash Saturday in the $10,000 Laurel stakes. The race is at a mile, the dis-tance over which Ladkin defeated Epinard narrowly in the second of the International specials, which brought the French horse to this country. The Laurel is a condition race. Epinard receives eleven pounds the best of the weights with regard to Ladkin as com-pared with the imposts in their first meeting.

EPINARD'S ADVANTAGE.

Then the French horse carried scale of 126 and Ladkin, being a year younger, 119. Saturday Epinard is in with 116 and Lad-kin must carry 120. Had Epinard won any of the three international specials, the con-ditions would have required him to carry 126 pounds. Had he won two of them his impost for Saturday would have been 130. Because of the weights Epinard will be Because of the weights Epinard will be favorite in the Laurel, despite the fact that it is a real array of horses that is likely to oppose him. The probable field was increased this morning by the arrival of My Play, brother to Man o' War, which runs in the silks of the Lexington Stable. Roy Walden shipped the son of Fair Play from New York to Pimlico and sent him by van from the Baltimore course to Laurel with three stable-mates. Andy Shuttinger accompanied the mates. Andy Shuttinger accompanied the outfit to ride My Play Saturday. Following are the most likely opponents of Epinard : Ladkin, My Play, Wise Counsellor, Sun Flag, Single Foot and Whetstone. Other prospectives, those less likely startes, are Donaghee, Big Blaze, Initiate and Arcady.

NO POMP OR CEREMONY.

Epinard's entry into Laurel was attended Epinard's entry into Laurel was attended by no pomp or ceremony. When his car was spotted a few paddock loungers welcomed him. As the car came to a stop, Frank Leigh stepped to the platform and helped a bystander place a planking to the exit of the car. After traps had been unloaded from one side of the car, Ladkin, Blind Play and Diagram, in the order named, paraded from their end of the car, and to the barn oc-cupied by Commander J. K. L. Ross, where half a dozen stalls had been set aside for the new arrivals. Epinard was the first of the foreigneous for where the first of

LAUREL, Md., Oct. 16.—Barbary Bush beat Orphcus by a length in the Gunpowder purse, an all-aged race that came fourth on the program. It was at a mile. Harlan fin-ised third. After Which Epinard Is Paraded

Before the Crowd.

Immediately after Ten Minutes won the feature the Quantico Handicap for the Glen Riddle farm at Laurel this afternoon, Epinard, the French champion, was paraded for the inspection of a large crowd. Accom-panied by a stable pony and mounted by an exercise boy, the famous son of Badajoz galloped up in front of the siewards' stand to the strains of the Marseillaise. Eugene Leigh and Frank Leigh were in the group that surrounded the French horse as a bat-tery of photographers did their work. The race in which Ten Minutes triumphed was a fitting introduction to the French champion, which has run three great races in this country. The Hourless colt began slowly and was last of the field for half of the mile and a sixteenth course, came around and won going away. Dr. O'Mara, the pace-maker, held on for second money a length in front of Golden Sphere. I. Parke had the mount on Ten Minutes, his second winner in

With rival interests claiming control of the Jefferson Park track at New Orleans, a court fight to determine the legal ownership now appears probable. In fact, according to Charles Essig, associated with Joseph A. Murphy, Attorney Albert Sabath left Wednes-day evening for New Orleans to seek a court injunction restraining the New Orleans faction, comprising Messrs. R. S. Eddy, Jr., James Lemarie, R. Maestri and R. A. Leigh from taking control of the Jefferson Park track.

Great Sport Marks Inaugural Day Racing at Yonkers Course.

Scarsdale Handicap to Lucky Play -Stimulus Proves Best in the Juvenile Feature.

YONKERS, N. Y., Oct. 16 .- It was a great day of racing that marked the opening of the Empire City Racing Association meeting at the Yonkers track Thursday, and with bright, warm weather an immense throng was in attendance. August Belmont's Lucky was in attendance. August Belmont's Lucky Play, under an excellent ride by Clarence Kummer, was the bright and particular star, when he was winner of the mile of the Scarsdale Handicap and in a companion fea-ture, the Killarney Purse for two-year-olds, Marshall Field's Stimulus again proved his worth when he took the measure of W. R. Coe's Zuker. Both of the features brought about stirring finishes about stirring finishes.

about stirring finishes. With a short delay at the post the start for the Scarsdale was a good one, but there came a bit of bumping on the first turn in which Rialto was knocked back badly. Lucky Play had the inside position at the post and Kummer rushed him along to escape the threatened crowding, coming clear before the turn was reached. Laurano was outrun-ning the others and he was well lapped on the Belmont three-year-old and racing under slight restraint. Kummer was content to hold Laurano, and when the Metropolitan winner made the pace a bit hot after passing the half mile ground, he eased Lucky Play slightly for a few paces. It was Rinkey that was rac-ing in third place, but she was four lengths ing in third place, but she was four lengths back of the first two and showing the way to James Butler's Sleepy Head, one that was racing along the inner rail strongly and the two-year-old Tick Tock followed him closely with Rialto last.

BREATHING SPELL HELPS.

After his breathing spell Kummer per-After his breathing spell Kummer per-mitted Lucky Play to run along again after rounding out of the back stretch, and he quickly passed Laurano to go into the com-mand. Laurano was all through from his early effort and swinging into the stretch Lucky Play was clear of his company. He had made a good turn for home and Kummer was master of the situation.

The Killarney Purse over, the short three-The Killarney Purse over, the short three-quarters distance brought about a good con-test when Marshall Field's Stimulus, the top weight, led home W. R. Coe's Zuker, with James Butler's Pique beating H. P. Whit-ney's Noah for third. From a good start it was Pique that went out in the lead, but Stimulus was right after him and Noah was a strong-going third. Zuker was a bit slow to find his racing legs and Callahan was permitting him to settle Zuker was a bit slow to find his racing legs and Callahan was permitting him to settle into his stride, with the result that he was badly outrun. Pique held to his lead througn the backstretch and cut out a fast pace, but Stimulus, racing along inside of him, was going well, with plenty in reserve, and it was evident that he could go into command at the first asking. Noah was also resing at the first asking. Noah was also racing well back of the pair of them, but Zuker had dropped back until he was a full five lengths further away and the others followed along back of him with little chance to be any closer. Before the stretch was reached Stimulus had shaken off Pique and swinging for home he was a length to the good, while Noah was tring and unable to improve his posi-tion. Stimulus seemed to have the race put away when suddenly Zuker loomed up on the charging along on the outside at a terrific pace. Thurber sensed the danger and drove Stimulus, and none too soon for the son of Ultimus was doing his best at the end to beat the grandson of Ultimus by a neck. The running suggested that Callahan had waited too long with Zuker and that an earlier move would have seen the Coe winner. But it must be remembered that while he was avoiding the early pace Stimu-lus, under the top weight, was forcing that same pace to put away Pique and Noah.

GRIFFIN RIDES WELL.

Parader was the third successive favorite to go down to defeat. He was beaten home by Elias O., on which the diminutive Griffin rode especially well and succeeded in over coming considerable interference at the first turn. He kept him in close proximity to the leaders thereafter and came away in the stretch to win with much in reserve. Parader attained the lead at one stage and looked to be the winner at that time, but he tired steadily when urged hard. Tender Seth, showing the most speed for three quarters, retired thereafter, but was good enough to land in third place.

Riviera, which in a preceding start won handily, came right back with a good performance to beat some fast youngsters in the sirth race. Bridesmaid was close on her heels with the favorite, Kitty Pat, following. Riviera displayed a high order of speed from the start and she was given a hustling ride by Heupel. Bridesmaid and Kitty Pat were both laggards in the early stages, but they moved up determinedly and finished going faster than the winner. The trainer of the latter tried to have the filly The excused from starting but as he gave no justifiable excuse for wanting to withdraw her after the usual scratch time, the stewards declined to grant his request.

The concluding race, in which some or-inary ones met, produced a spirited finish fter Miss Mazie, Yorick and Kindred had dinary after Miss Mazie, fought a hard duel from the start. Miss Mazie showed improvement in her running from a preceding start and she got up to win in the last stride, Yorick beating home Kindred also by the narrowest margin, watchers were impressed by the sleekness of his coat where the sunshine struck and reflected from its chestnut smoothess. Next in the procession came Frank Leigh with Satin Slippers and Pete, the stable's Airedale. Idle Girl brought up the rear. All of the horses were quartered quickly and it was announced later that Epinard would be paraded publicly following the fifth race.

HONOR TO E. R. BRADLEY Master of Idle Hour Farm Secures Crack Colt From Rancocas Stable, Paying $10,000.

LATONIA, Ky., Oct. 16.-The biggest turf transaction of the present Latonia meeting was consumated Thursday morning when S. C. Hildreth, acting for the Rancocas stable, sold the three-year-old Honor to E. R. Bradlev for the sum of $10,000. Horsemen are of the opinion that the master of Idle Hour Farm secured a bargain. Honor is a bay colt by Fair Play—Crystal Maid and has started twice here. In his first start, last Caturday he was bester by a balf lower to be Saturday, he was beaten by a half length by Dare Say. Wednesday the colt, making his second start, won by ten lengths, running the mile in 1:36%. It was this good race that impelled Mr. Bradley to add the colt to his stable. Honor is eligible to the Latonia Championship Stakes and may start in the Bradley colors in that stake. Bob Tail—the Bradley main dependence for the Latonia Championship Stakes—went wrong some time ago and will not start.

According to Judge Murphy's representa tives here James F. O'Hara and Gad D. Bryan, Jr., original builders of the track, had granted an option for the controlling interest to Joseph A. Murphy, trustee of the National Racing Association, composed of Chicago and New Orleans business men. Rechicago and New Orleans basiness men. Re-ports from New Orleans last week stated that this option had been exercised. This was confirmed yesterday by Charles T. Essig, Chicago representative of Murphy's organization, who stated that the deal had been closed by payment of $30,000 to O'Hara & Bryan in Baltimore on October 10.

Later reports from New Orleans were to the effect that the Murphy option, expiring October 10, had been allowed to lapse, an that four New Orleans citizens, headed by R. S. Eddy, Jr., had purchased the track upon an option held by G. R. Bryson.

It was said here yesterday that the Mur-phy option was exercised on the specified date, since depositions have been made by the Greenbaum Sons Bank & Trust Com pany and by the Postal Telegraph Com-pany that $30,000 was delivered to the the O'Hara & Bryan representatives through the Western National Bank of Baltimore before the option expired.

Mr. Essig stated last night that a further payment of $50,000 would be made October 20 and the balance November 20, thus com-pleting the contract as provided in the Murphy option. It was further stated that Judge Murphy had wired from Dallas, Texas, his resigna-tion as presiding steward at Bowie track in Maryland, as well as all the other tracks controlled by O'Hara & Bryan interests.

OPENER TO BLUE HILL.

Jack Richardson's Blue Hill was winner of the opening race of the day and meeting. This was a mile race for cheap platers and at the end he was showing the way to W. Kearn's Bear Grass, while J. O. Burtschell's Wrackhorn saved third from Honfleur. Bear Grass was the one to cut out the running and Honfleur chased along after him and in close attendance, while Delysia also raced forwardly through the early stages. Then, leaving the backstretch, Blue Hill moved up on the outside until at the head of the stretch he was almost on even terms with Bear Grass and Honfleur. Bear Grass saved ground on the stretch turn, while Blue Hill was forced to go wide, but the latter was good enough to put the Kearn's plater away readily in the last eighth. Wrackhorn fin-ished resolutely to take third place from the tiring Honfleur. The race run by Blue Hill was a decided improvement over his last

Here and There on the Turf

Master Charlie's Class. Will Race in Kentucky. Epinard and Kummer at Laurel. Chevy Chase is Promising.

When William Daniels' Master Charlie ran such an impressive race to win the Remsen Handicap at Jamaica Wednesday, he took front rank among the candidates for the Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes, to be decided at Churchill Downs during the meeting which is to open October 23.

It is not often that a colt that is a winner in March is capable of going on and winning the $50,000 Hopeful at Saratoga, but that is what the son of Lord Archer and Bachelor's Choice accomplished before his fine perform ance in the Remsen Handicap.

When it is taken into consideration that from time to time Andy Blakely has had to nurse the good colt along he is entitled to great credit for the present condition of his charge, though, of course, he has had something to work on worth while.

Master Charlie made his first appearance in a race at Tijuana on March 9, which meant that he had been in training for a considerable time before that date. Beaten in his first start he followed it with three victories, two at Tijuana and one at Jamaica. The notable victory at the Mexican course was in the Tijuana Futurity, and it was his victory there that compelled him to take up a severe penalty in his New York engagements.

He took the Colorado Stakes at Jamaica on May 10 and after one more start at the course of the Metropolitan Jockey Club he was not seen again until the August racing at Saratoga.

Beaten in both the Grab Bag and the Adirondack Handicaps, Master Charlie gave a full realization of his racing ability when he shouldered 130 pounds and won the Hopeful Stakes, adding just $48,700 to his winnings. There were twenty-five of the best that could be mustered in the field for the Hopeful, and those that finished behind Mr. Daniel's English colt were Pas Seul, Kentucky Cardinal, Single Foot, Blue Ridge, Sunny Man, Swope, American Flag, Sun Hathor, By Hisself, Forward Pass, Backbone, Supremus, Hamadan, Crumple, Stirrup Cup, Laplander, Dangerous, Cloudland, Brown Sugar, Stimulus, Joe Marrone III., The Bat, Trip Lightly and Almadel.

The Remsen Handicap was the next start for Master Charlie. He was not an eligible to the Futurity at Belmont Park, won by Mother Goose, but in the Hopeful Stakes he had easily beaten Stimulus, the colt that was pressing Mr. Whitney's filly closely at the finish. And he had beaten Stimulus with fifteen more pounds in the saddle than was carried by Mr. Fields' good colt.

The Remsen Handicap saw him again carrying 130 pounds, and he conclusively verified the Hopeful Stakes running when he ran the three-quarters around the Jamaica turns in 1:11%, the fastest time that has been hung up by a two-year-old in the East this year. What made the performance doubly impressive is the fact that Master Charlie ran out on both of the turns, losing a deal of ground. This made it impossible for Babin to send him along at his best speed, for he was too busily engaged in his endeavor to keep the colt straight.

This running out on the turns is a bad habit and it may cost Master Charlie some races, but he is a colt of high speed, and his Jamaica race showed that even running out he was able to finish out the three-quarters in impressive fashion.

He has already shown that he is a rare weight carrier and a colt of great speed, so that if he also proves a stayer, as is promised, he will finish his racing this year with about as much right to the two-year-old championship as any two-year-old that has been shown.

Ira Pennock's Pathan showed a return to something like his New Orleans form when he was winner of the mile and sixteenth of the second race from P. S. P. Randolph's High Prince and Silas Gooch's Good Night, with James Butler's Tickler following him home, to say nothing of Crack o' Dawn and Scare Crow. It was High Prince and Crack o' Dawn that cut out all the pace. Pathan had begun well but he was utterly unable bawn in at cut out all the pace. Pathan had begun well but he was utterly unable to keep pace with the early leaders and they opened up quite a gap. Not until swinging out of the backstretch did Crack o' Dawn begin to tire and at the same time Pathan began to draw up on High Prince, though the Randolph plater still seemed to be going easily. Three-eighths from home Pathan be-gan to race in earnest and at the head of the stretch he was so close that Harvey went to the whip on the leader. But Pathan continued to gain and Callahan brought him to the outside of the pacemaker to come away and win with something to spare. Good Night and Tickler were both going well at the end while Crack o' Dawn tired badly. The real disappointment was W. V. Casey's Scare Crow, which in his last pre-vious start had no end of speed. On this occasion, however, his was a disgraceful showing and there was no time that he cut any figure.

showing and there was no time that he cut any figure. Sleepy Head was closing with a great rush on the inside and Marinelli found room for him inside of Lucky Play. On the out-side Rinkey was coming along gallantly and an eighth out Kummer saw the danger and he called on Lucky Play, watching his pur-suers closely. Lucky Play answered the call, but right to the end the other two continued to gain until at the end Lucky Play was only winner by a neck and Sleepy Head had only beaten Rinkey by a nose. Rialto, the one to be fourth, closed a big gap, but he was six lengths back of the first three. After the finish the jockeys were inter-

After the finish the jockeys rogated by the stewards on the interference Rialto was knocked back, but the order of the finish was not disturbed. The race was worth $4,655 to the winner. There was another good field that went to the post for the short three-quarters of the fifth race and it resulted in another stirring finish vace and it resulted in another stirring finish when Anna Marrone II. just lasted to beat W. R. Coe's Elvina, with Swingalong saving third from Rigel. Anna Marrone II. cut out all the pace and Variation followed her, with H. T. Waters third. At the stretch turn H. T. Waters made a great the ling or our of the stretch turn the stretch turn H. T. Waters third. challenge, circling around on the outside while Variation tired. But the H. T. Waters bid was only a bluff and Anna Marrone II. held to her lead rounding the turn for home. Then along came Elvina with a rush that was just a few strides short of victory.

GLORIES OF TWO THOUSAND SLANG OF THE RACE TRACK

English Turf Writer Recounts High Points of Classic's History.

:14

Ormonde and Flying Fox Recognized as Greatest Horses to Win Big Stake at Newmarket.

Although of recent years the Two Thou-sand Guineas has failed to maintain its former class, the race will always be re-garded as second to none from a spectacular point of view. To see that charging field of borses coming down the broad expanse of greensward known as the Rowley Mile, the colors of their riders flashing kaleidoscopically in the May sunshine, is indeed a sight for the gods.

When the plungers reigned the "Guineas was generally regarded as the halfway-house to the honors of a Blue Riband, but "autre temps, autre moeurs." A real "live" Derby celt nowadays is seldom ready to do full justice to himself at Newmarket.

Unlike Epsom, Newmarket has never been known as a rogues' course, and casting my mind back thirty years or so I cannot recall the names of many ill-temperd beasts which triumphed in the first of the classics. Cer-tainly Handlcapper, the surprise winner of 1901, was a bit erratic in some of his run-ning, but he carried W. Halsey home that ning, but he carried w. raisey nome that day from seventeen others, though doubtless we did not then see the best of the sub-sequent St. Leger winner, Dcricles, which added to the year's outsiders by smashing up the Derby hero, Volodyovski, on the Town Moor.

UNIMPRESSIVE WINNERS.

Sweeper II., the "Guineas" winner in 1912, was a horse of temperamental qualities with was a norse or temperamental qualities with no pretensions to stay a yard farther than a mile, while Diamond Jubilee (1900) would never have won the race at all if those con-nected with the management of the royal string had insisted on "Morny" Cannon rid-ing as was originally intended for the ing, as was originally intended, for the horse refused to take to any jockey save Bert Jones. Apart from this trio, taken at random, the first classic, in my time at any rate, has invariably fallen to a game horse when Neil Gow credited Lord Rosebery with the prize in 1910 we surely saw one of the best finishes of all time. In the last quarter mile the bearer of the primrose and rose hoops and Lemberg ran home locked together so that none of the course except the men in the how with his ever glued on the together so that none of the course except the man in the box with his eye glued on the blackboard opposite could say which had won. If he had signalled a dead heat, the decision would have caused no surprise, but as it was, in the opinion of the judge, as it was, in the opinion of the judge, "Danny" Maher's superb jockeyship had just landed his mount first past the stick by a short head. The pity of it was that Neil Gow was not fighting fit on Derby day.

Later, when he went on to Epsom, Lem-berg won for Bernard Dillon his only Derby, and later on the Manton cclt dead-heated with Neil Gow in a memorable contest for the Eclipse Stakes at Sandown Park.

ORMONDE AND FLYING FOX.

By universal consent the two best horses By universal consent the two best holeses that ever won the "Guineas" were the mighty Ormonde (1886) and Flying Fox (1899). George Barrett rode Ormonde in the first classic, but to Fred Archer went the honcr of completing the triple crown when he sub-sequently scored on the Kingsclere wonder at Epsom and Doncaster. A good many people never forgave the late Duke of Westminster for allowing such a horse as Or-monde to be sold to go out of the country, but the son of Bend Or turned roarer, and this was his excuse for parting with an animal the like of which we may never see again.

Curiously, Flying Fox was in the same interest as Ormonde, but this bearer of the black and yellow livery had nothing like the black and yellow livery had nothing like the class of animals to meet as did the winner of '86. With the exception of Cai-man, the mile record holder, his opponents were poor stuff, indeed, though Scintillant did manage to win at Caesarewitch. Ayrshire (1888) was the last "Guineas" winner that Johnny Osborne threw a leg across, though he had been successful in the same for Protected as for hack as 1869.

across, though he had been successful in the race (on Pretender) as far back as 1869. Ayrshire beat a fair-class field, but the colt by Hampton—Atalanta, was not so good as Donovan, the Duke of Portland's Derby winner of the following year. 'Tis true Ayrshire also added the Derby to his Two Thousand laurels, sight by Seabreeze, Chillington and Zanzibar in the St. Leger.

Picturesque Words and Sayings

That Express a Meaning

All Their Own.

The English is a rich language, but it does The English is a rich language, but it does not seem rich enough for the average person of today to get along with. The words to be found in the dictionary apparently are not sufficient, therefore slang words and phrases have been called into service.

Sports of various kinds have found it nec-essary to supplement it with a jargon of their own. There is baseball slang, and there is the English of the paddock and the track.

To the race track we are indebted for the birth of many pharses and sayings, used now in everyday life, picturesque words that ex-press meanings all their own.

The use of the word "lobster" to express extreme slowness was first heard on the race tracks, and was applied to a horse showing little or no speed in a contest. Later it was used to express contempt for some other person. A spendthrift or unsophisticated persons were generally referred to as "lobsters."

What more expressive bit of slang can be imagined than "cinch," a word used on the race track and intended to convey to the winner; something done or obtained without difficulty—as to have a cinch on a thing. The word is derived from the Spanish cincha and the French cingere.

The expression of "lead pipe cinch" is intended to convey an even stronger convic-tion, and is applied in the case of a supposed absolute certainty, for instance, when your informant declares that a certain horse "can't lose unless he falls and breaks a leg," than you have a "lead pipe cinch." Just why lead pipe should be used as a prefix to cinch has always been a mystery.

The word "dope" is to be found in the dic-tionary, and is derived from the Dutch "doop," meaning a dipping, and the French "doopen," signifying "to dip." In race track parlance the word dope, used as a verp, means to administer a stimulant to a horse to increase big speed. to judge or guess: to increase his speed; to judge or guess; to predict the result of, as by the aid of dope.

Dope is also used as a noun and signifies any preparation to stimulate. The word is also used as indicating the record of the horses' past performances and the judgment based on them.

DERIVATION OF WORD DOPESTER.

From dope we get the word "dopester," meaning one who predicts the result of a race, with the aid of dope.

Much uncertainty surrounds the origin of the word "welsher," used on the race track to describe a person who bets or receives money to be bet and absconds without paying his losses, or returning the money in-trusted to him. The word came into use in England many years ago and was generally applied to defaulting bookmakers on the race track. Some writers claim the word was first applied to an absconding bookmaker named Welsh, while others insist it sprang originally from the old nursery rhyme;

"Tafly was a Welshman, Taffy was a thief, Taffy came to my house ad stole a leg of beef.

The expression "tincanned" signifies that horse has won with ease. It originated a horse has won with ease. It originated about twenty eyars ago, from the practice of turned into the home stretch, and making all possible noise so that a certain horse would run faster. Monk Wayman, owned by Mose Goldblatt, is said to be the original tincan horse. It is said of his that the noise of the tin cans would make him increase his speed, and often resulted in his winning a race. This practice has long since been discontin-ued, but the slang phrase that it produced still remains.

"cheap skate" originated at the old Gut-A The skate, a fish with a shape something like a barn door, is held responsible for this bit of slang.

NOT TO BE TRANSLATED LITERALLY

Some of the expressions heard on the race track must not be translated literally by the novice. For instance, when you hear that a horse "went up in the air" don't suppose that he is an aviator, or that he turned completely present just as a parabat does when you are around just as an acrobat does when you are told that he "turned a form somersault." The last phrase means simply that the animal showed inconsistency, or that he raced in a manner that was in marked contrast to his other races.

ANOTHER TRIPLE CROWN HERO.

Yet another Triple Crown hero won the Newmarket classic in 1893-Isinglass, and so superior was popular Harry McCalmont's colt all that year over his two nearest ad-versaries in point of merit—Ravensbury and Raeburn—that he usually managed to beat them pointless

Said the trainer of Ravensbury after the first defeat, "I know mine's a smasher, so what sort of an animal is Isinglass?" To which the only answer can be that Isinglass was a horse and a half. The rivalry of Persimmon and St. Frus-

quin (the "Guineas" winner of 1896) had been foreshadowed since their two-year-old days, but when the prince's colt showed up badly in a gallop at headquarters during Craven week it was practically decided that he would not run until the Derby, so as to give him more time to mature.

give him more time to mature. Instantly St. Frusquin's price for the "Guineas" hardened to 6 to 4, with more takers than layers. He went out on the day at odds-on price, and on the showing he made the "talent" had no hesitation in in-stalling him favorite for the Epsom classic. He was a good horse on that day at New-market when Tommy Loates nursed him home in front of six "also rans," but all things being equal he would never have beaten Persimmon. The best mare I ever saw win the New-market classic was the peerless Sceptre, who squandered her field in 1902, and, incidentally, won for her owner a "packet." As she also won the One Thousand, the Oaks and the St. Leger, and was none too lucky when running fourth in the race for the Darby, it goes without saying that she was an un-commonly good and game bit of stuff. There was only one better than her that year—a colt named Ard Patrick, but a pound, plus err ellemence would probably have hrought sex allowance, would probably have brought them together.

other races. And when you are told that a horse "hug-ged the rail" don't be deluded with the idea that he actually embraced the rail. All he did was to race close to the inner fence to save as much ground as possible. When a horse "takes the overland route" he runs on the outside of the track, or has to go around the other horses in the race. When the jockey has his mount under restraint the the jockey has his mount under restraint the animal in track jargon is "under wraps." When the owner or trainer of a horse did not want him to win, the animal was said to be "out for an airing."

When the horse is backed to win he was said to be "well meant," and when a horse' chances were considered hopeless he was said

The term "walk over" originated at the race track. It was used when a horse had no competitor in a race. He simply walked of galloped over the course, hence the expres sion, now used to designate any condition where there is no competition. The word "hedge" is largely a product of the trotting tracks, but which is also used at the running tracks. It means an act in tended to secure one's self from loss on one bet by making others to minimize chance of losing.

When Disraeli won in 1898 the connections ihought they also had the Derby in their pocket, for the three-year-olds that year were a rather poor lot. Sam Loates beat fourteen opponents at Newmarket, but Marsh's stable reckoned that they would turn the tables in the Derby with the speedy Dieu-donne. They certainly did turn the tables on Disraeli's people, but not with the horse they expected, for to their consternation up rolled Otto Madden on the unbacked 100 to 1 rolled Otto Madden on the unbacked 100 to 1 forlorn hope, Jeddah, which had previously won the Newmarket Stakes.—Mornington, in London Sporting Times.

Hope of West in Latonia Championship Stakes

CHILHOWEE.

After Chilhowee's disappointing showing in the third International Special, the Latonia Derby winner of this year, lost many friends, who are willing to admit that the colt, on the strength of that perform-ance, had little chance to win the forthcoming Latonia Championship Stakes to be run Saturday. Then, three days after his failure in tho International, the same Chilhowee startled the racing world by running a mile and an eighth in the fastest time ever recorded for the distance, a new American and, probably world's record, of 1:484/5, winning by four lengths, eased up. Back again to grace, Chilhowee immediately regained the old friends and made new admirers, who are already pro-claiming him the winner of the Latonia Championship Stakes. Saturday will tell the story. In the meantime, here is the hope of the west in the big race.

Owen Tudor to the fourteenth and final fence when he made a bad landing and somer-saulted. Owen Tudor led all the way with J. Pierce in the saddle. Trapstick gave him the closest chase, but Barleycorn moved up with a rush starting the last dash through the backfield and gave Owen Tudor a long drive into the home-stretch. He tired slightly, however, and was beaten at the time of his mishap. In view of the fact that it was Barleycorn's first race through the field, it appears as if he will amount to something in that branch of the sport. the sport.

E. J. Holland's Ivory opened up a lead quickly in the first race and held on gamely to win by a length and a quarter from Wuhu. Westover beat the others in a field of fourteen two-year-olds. Breuning rode the winner.

W. Dayton, a resident of Laurel, obtained a concession of five pounds off the weight assigned his Wraith in the Paca Claiming Handicap by riding J. K. L. Ross' good lightweight apprentice R. Fisher and had the satisfaction of seeing the gelding come home two lengths in front. Fisher rode a good race, following the pace of Scoop closely until he staged his usual bolt for the outside fence at the stretch turn. When the Louis colt ran out Fisher guided Wraith

A jockey by the name of Houlihan came to Upson Downs one December day with a letter to Jack Adler, then chief aide to Judge Blinkiron. Opening the letter Jack discovered that it was from an old Yonkers friend and requested him to "look after the bearer, jockey Jimmy Houlihan, a nephew of mine, and a most promising and upright youngster, who has ridden this summer with marked success at Lowrey and 'the Dump,' up at 110th street and First avenue."

Adler recommended Houlihan, who appeared to be well past the voting age, to several of his friends among the owners and to Judge Blinkiron, with the result that Lester Doctor, then racing a small and unselect stable at the little course by the canal, put him up on a horse of his, sure to be a red hot favorite and apparently a "standout."

About an hour before the race Adler noticed Houlihan in earnest converse with a bird of whose morals and purpose in life Jack had his doubts. Later he questioned the jockey about his companion.

"Aw, him?" said Houlihan. "I knowed him up at the Dump. He got me my first mount. But I told him just now I didn't want nothin' to do with him down here. I don't think he's very honest, Mr. Adler."

Mr. Eddy received a wire from Richard Leigh Thursday inform-ing him that the New Orleans Business Mens' wire from Hichard Leigh Thursday inform-ing him that the New Orleans Business Mens' Racing Association would hang up a $25,000 added stake at the fair grounds, to be de-cided February 21. This, with the $17,500 Louisiana Derby at the Jefferson Park track, will lend an altogether new importance to the racing at New Orleans during the winter. Beyond the fact that this $25,000 prize will be framed for three-vear-olds and unward be framed for three-year-olds and upward, Mr. Eddy was not informed on the other particulars of the prize.
